

*The 1978 Manor Fairfield University
Volume 28*

We take pride in dedicating this book to all the behind the scenes people for their invaluable aid in keeping Fairfield University running smoothly.

There is nothing I can give you which you have not, but there is much, very much that while I cannot give it, you can take.

No heaven can come to us unless our hearts find rest in today. Take Heaven!
No peace lies in the future which is not hidden in this present moment. Take peace!

The gloom of the world is but a shadow behind it, yet within reach is joy. There is a radiance and glory in the darkness, could we but see, and to see, we have only to look

I beseech you to look! Life is so generous a giver, but we, judging its gifts by their covering cast them away as ugly or heavy or hard.

Remove the covering & you will find beneath it a living splendor woven of love by wisdom with power. Welcome it, grasp it and you touch the angel's hand that brings it to you. Everything we call a trial, a sorrow or a duty, believe me the angel's hand is there; the gift is there & the wonder of an overshadowing presence.

Our joys too; be not content with them as joys. They too conceal diviner gifts.

And so at this time, I greet you. Not quite as the world sends greetings but with profound esteem and the prayer that for you, now & forever the day breaks and the shadows flee away.

- Fra Giovanni -

*There is nothing I can give you which you have not, but there is much, very much, that while I cannot give it,
you can take.*

No heaven can come to us unless our hearts find rest in today.

Take Heaven!

*No peace lies in the future which is not hidden in this present moment.
Take Peace!*

The gloom of the world is but a shadow behind it, yet within reach is joy. There is a radiance and glory in the darkness, could we but see, and to see, we have only to look.

I beseech you to look!

Life is so generous a giver, but we judging its gifts by their covering cast them away as ugly or heavy or hard.

Remove the covering & you will find beneath it a living splendor woven of love by wisdom with Power.

Welcome it, grasp it, and you touch the angel's hand that brings it to you. Everything we call a trial, a sorrow, or a duty, believe me that angel's hand is there, and the wonder of an overshadowing presence.

Our joys too; be not content with them as joys. They too conceal diviner gifts.

And so at this time, I greet you. Not quite as the world sends greetings but with profound esteem and with the prayer that for you, now and forever, the day breaks and the shadows flee away.

Perhaps the most valuable result of all education is the ability to make yourself do the thing you have to do, when it ought to be done, whether you like it or not; it is the first lesson that ought to be learned; and however early a man's training begins, it is probably the last lesson that he learns thoroughly.

A community of ignorances may be as binding as a community of interests. We have a dull suspicion of that him or her who knows more than we do, but the person who is prepared to go out adventuring with us, with surmise only for a chart and enjoyment for a guide, may use our hand as his own and our pockets as his treasury.

James Stephens

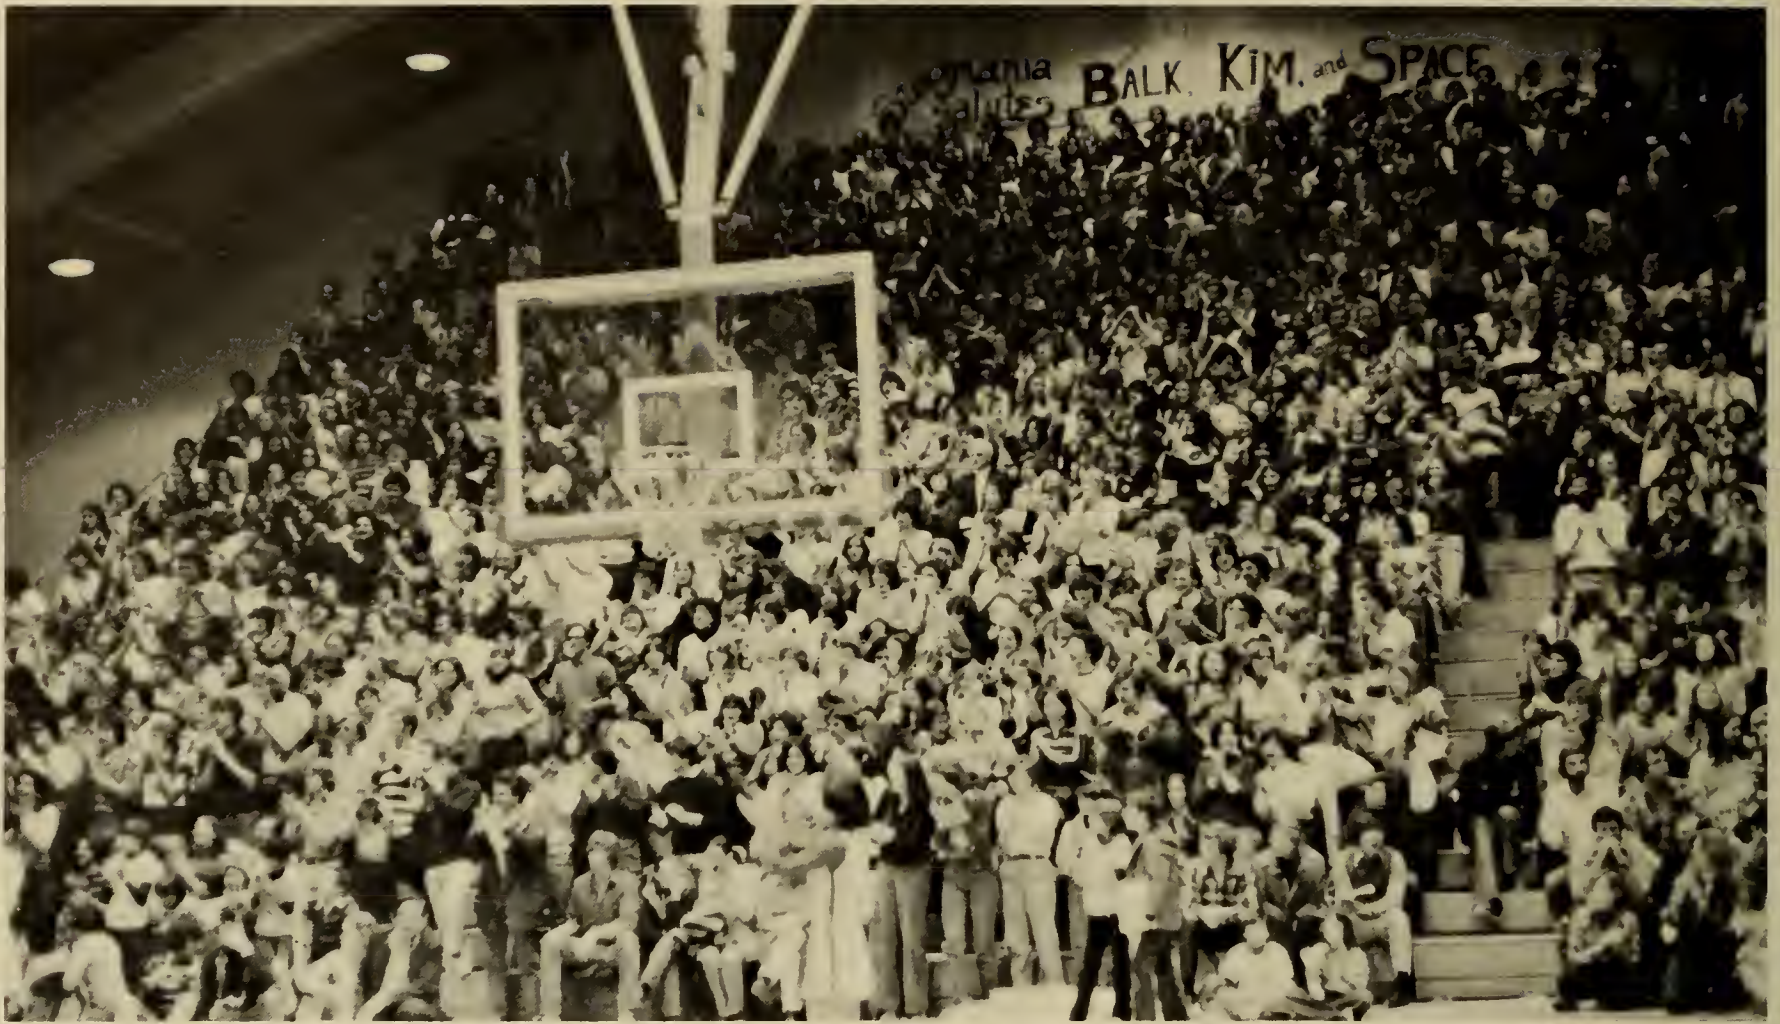

Years from now when people think back to the Fairfield class of 1978, the basketball team will be among the first things to come to mind. Behind the play of seniors Mark Plefka, Kim Fisher and captain Steve Balkun, along with Fred Barakat's Joe DeSantis, Mark Young and Flip Williams, the Stags finished their regular season with a 22-3 record.

Fairfield went to the ECAC tournament this past season, losing to URI in the final seconds, 71-69, then dropped a NIT first round game to Dayton before the end of the finest season in the school's history. DeSantis again led the Stags in scoring with a 20.7 average, followed by Fisher with 18 points a game, making them the finest guard combo in the East. Balkun led New England most of the season in rebounds with over 10 caroms a game.

DeSantis (Honorable Mention All-American), Fisher and Young all reached the 1000 point mark this year, while Balkun finished 18 points short. DeSantis also missed by three points the single season scoring record of 546. Wins over Holy Cross, Duquense, St. Bonaventure, and UConn were some of the highlights to a season where Barakat won his 100th game as coach of the Stags.

There is a sumptuous variety about the New England weather that compels the stranger's admiration — and regret. The weather is always doing something there; always attending strictly to business; always getting up new designs and trying them on people to see how they will go.

The strength of nursing at its best appears to lie in caring — its common purpose.

Nursing is an art; and if it is to be made an art, requires as exclusive a devotion, as hard a preparation as any painter's or sculptor's work; for what is the having to do with dead canvas or cold marble, compared with having to do with the living body — the temple of God's spirit ... It is one of the fine arts; ... the finest of fine arts.

*The leader is best When people rarely know that he exists,
Not so good when people
obey and acclaim him,
Worst when they despise

'Fail to honor people,
They fail to honor you.
But of a good leader who talks little,
When his work is done,
his aim is fullfilled,
They will all say,
We did it ourselves.
Lao-Tsu — The Way of Life*

Life is so generous a giver, but we, judging its gifts by their covering, cast them away as ugly, or heavy, or hard. Remove the covering and you will find beneath it a living splendor woven of love, by wisdom, with power.

There is no insurmountable solitude. All paths lead to the same goal: to convey to others what we are. And we must pass through solitude, isolation and silence in order to reach forth to the enchanted place where we can dance our clumsy dance and sing our sorrowful song — but in this dance or this song there are fulfilled the most ancient rites of our conscience in the awareness of being human and of believing in a common destiny.

So you can see that the true builder is sometimes reluctant to expose his knowledge, his skill, his framework.

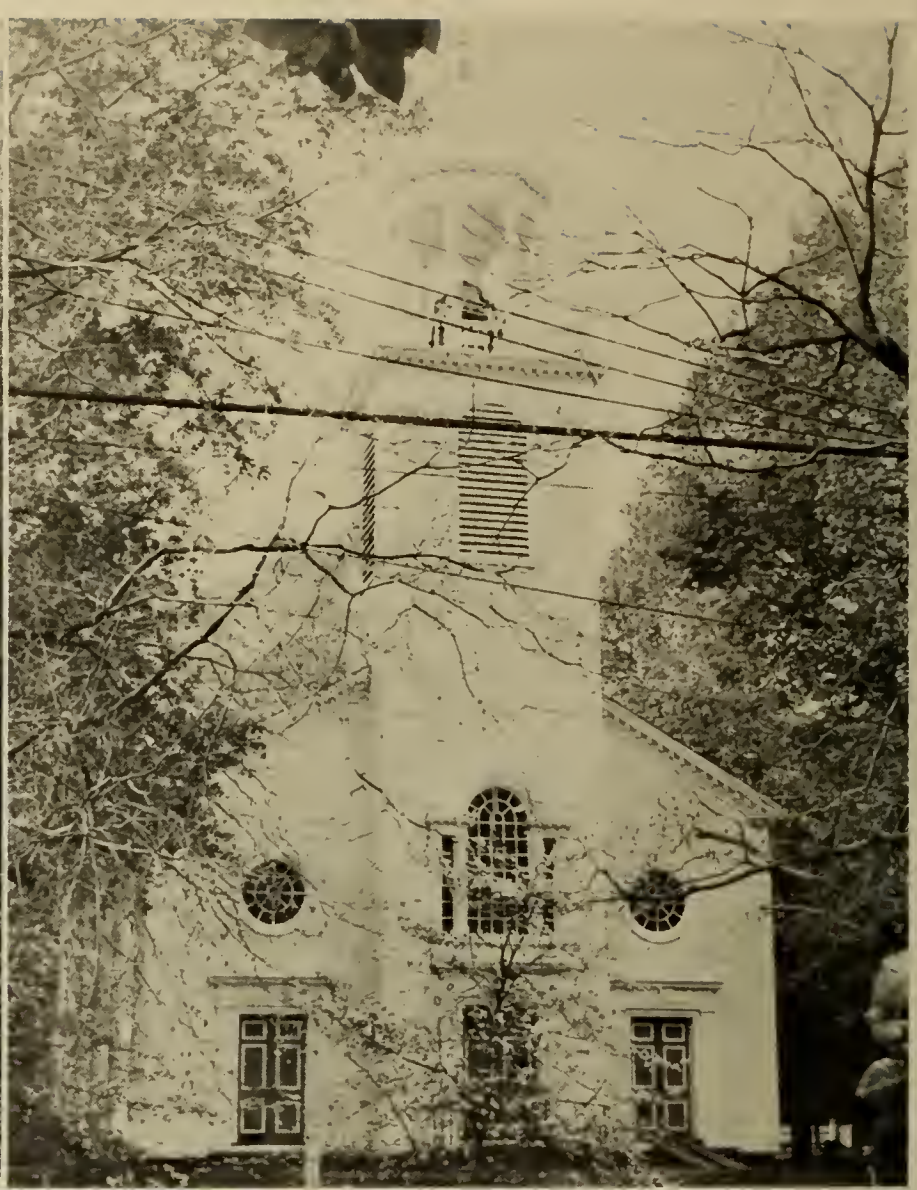

He understands that average builders only become great builders when they become dependent on their own minds.

And so he is criticized and blamed for the failure of other buildings . . .

He is not concerned though, for he knows. He understands the reasons for his actions . . .

Years from now, what we do here today will be a special memory, a spot of time, unlike all others. Today we gather together with many rich memories, experiences of success and failure, of friends lost and made, of trips, adventures, carnivals, and games. It would be easy to trace how each of you has come to this day; each of you has a story, unique, special, blessed. We can affirm that nothing has been lost; everything has in some way brought you here. This is your day, your graduation!

... How can I evaluate my success and worth, how can I know for sure when I have made it?

... We become what we know and love.

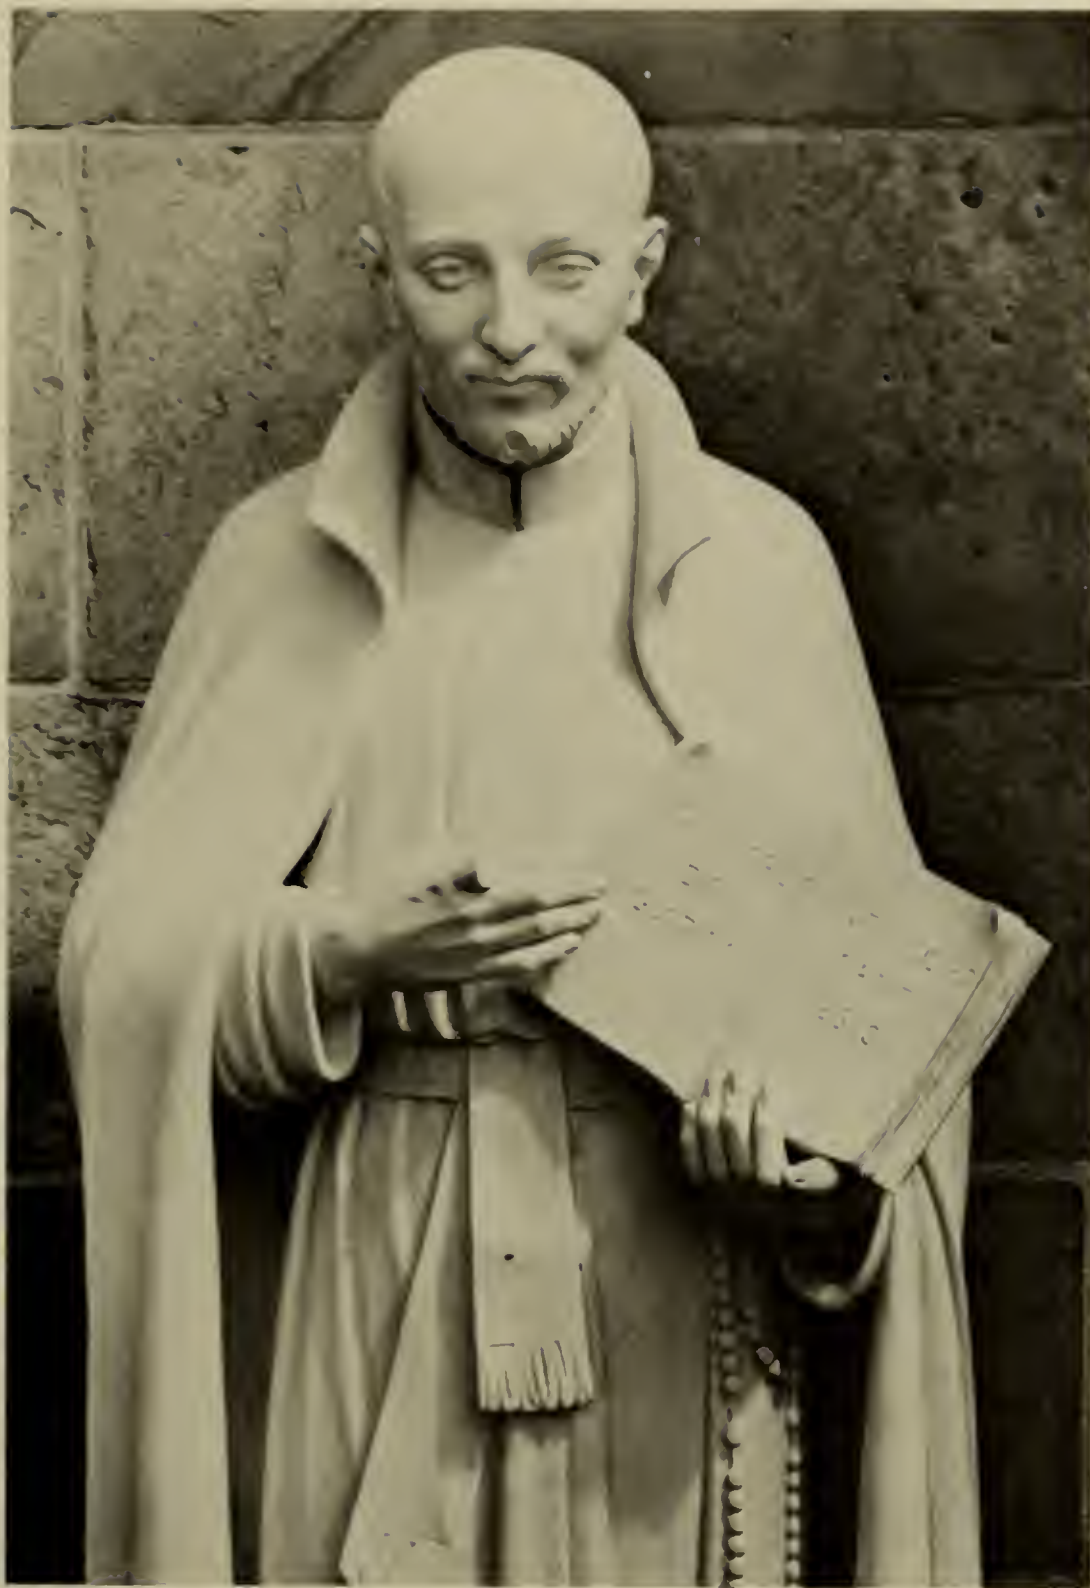

... You are different for having been here.

... Thank God we have been here, together.

— Paul Carrier, S.J.
Baccalaureate Homily

Love is eternal.

There are inspired messages, but they are temporary; there are gifts of speaking in strange tongues, but they will cease; there is knowledge, but it will pass. For our gifts of knowledge and of inspired messages are only partial, but when what is perfect comes, then what is partial will disappear.

When I was a child, my speech, feelings, and thinking were all those of a child; now that I am a man, I have no more use for childish ways. What we see now is like a dim image in a mirror; then we shall see face-to-face. What I know now is only partial; then it will be complete — as complete as God's knowledge of me.

Meanwhile these three remain:
faith, hope, and love; and the greatest of these is love.

—I Corinthians 13

The Fairfield baseball team picked up right where the basketball team finished, as C. Donald Cook's diamond-men posted the finest record in spring sports that this school has ever seen. Besides posting 19 wins against seven losses, the Stags earned themselves a spot in the ECAC tournament in Worcester. After avenging a regular season loss to the host club, Holy Cross in the first round, the Stags dropped both ends of a doubleheader to UMass and Holy Cross, to bow out of the tourney.

Despite the loss in the playoffs, Fairfield's second straight year of participation in that tourney, the Stags had much to boast of. No hit pitching of Keefe Cato against Maine, a mid-season 12 game win streak, the hitting and base stealing of Billy Barnes will all serve as fine memories of this club.

The loss of captain Bill Wilson along with Gene and Paul DeVito will hurt next year, as will the speed of Tom Neville be missed, but the whole pitching staff returns, in addition to some of the Stags outstanding hitters of this past year, which makes the future of Fairfield baseball look all the brighter.

Be still
Listen to the stones on the wall.
Be silent, then try
To speak your

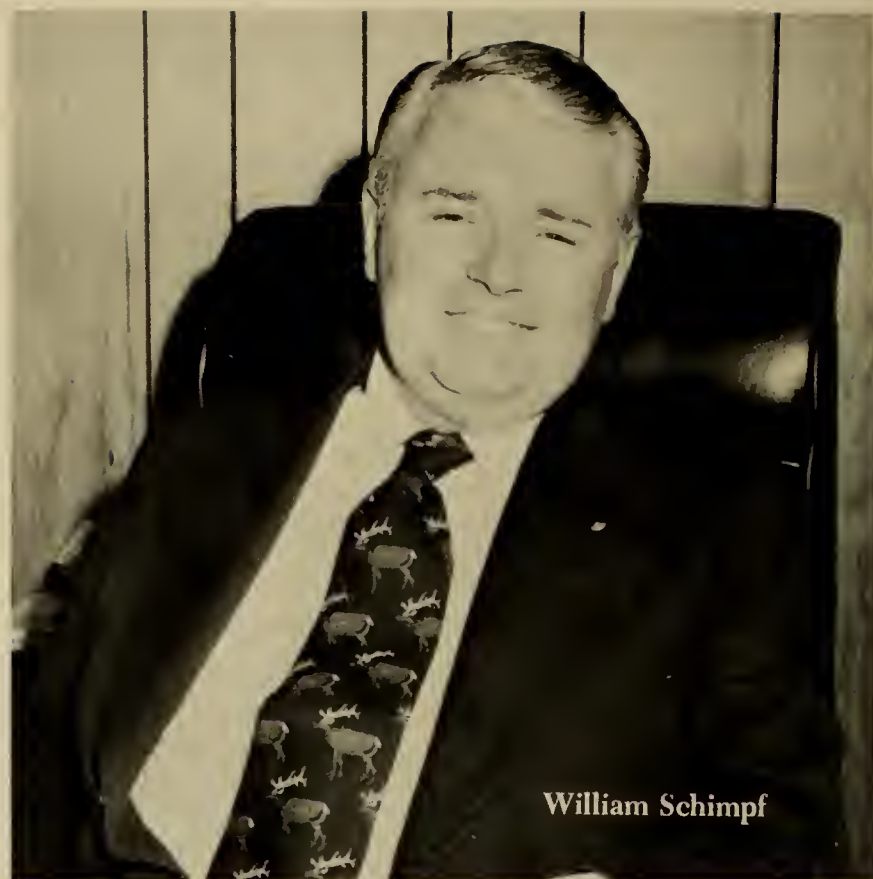

Name.
Listen
To the living walls.
Who are you?
Who Are you? Whose Silence are you?

Who (be quiet)
Are you (as these stones Are quiet). Do not Think of what you are Still less of What you can one day be.
Rather
Be what you are (but who?) be
The unthinkable one
You do not know.

O be still, while
You are still alive,
And all things live around you
Speaking (I do not hear)
To your own being,
Speaking by the Unknown
That is in you and in themselves.

The Fairfield Hockey team has a rough year in what Coach "Doc" McCarthy called "an unplanned building year." At times during the 8-12-1 season, the inexperience of many of the players showed, and that factor was taken advantage of by the often more experienced opposition. Injuries as well, took their toll on the club, and the lines were constantly juggled. The season as a whole was encouraging with strong play at the end of the season, giving the Stags something to look forward to next year. Senior captains Paul Nolan and Richie Bowler will be sorely missed, but returning veterans will hope to restore the hockey fortunes of the Stags in the future.

Neither be cynical about love; and disenchantment

So the little prince tamed the fox. And when the hour of his departure drew near —

"Ah," said the fox, "I shall cry."

"It is your own fault," said the little prince. "I never wished you any sort of harm; but you wanted me to tame you . . ."

"Yes that is so," said the fox.

"Then it has done you no good at all!"

"It has done me good because of the color of the wheat fields." And then he added: "Go on and look again at the roses. You will understand now that yours is unique in all the world. Then came back to say goodbye to me, and I will make you a present of a secret."

The little prince went away, to look again at the roses.

"You are not at all like my rose," he said. "As yet you are nothing. No one has tamed you, and you have tamed no one. You are like my fox when I first knew him. He was only a fox like a hundred thousand other foxes. But I have made him my friend, and now he is unique in all the world."

And the roses were very much embarrassed.

"You are beautiful, but you are empty," he went on. "One could not die for you. To be sure, an ordinary passerby would think that my rose looked just like you — the rose that belongs to me. But in herself alone she is more important than all the hundreds of you other roses: because it is she that I have watered; because it is she that I have sheltered behind the screen; because it is for her that I have killed the caterpillars (except the two or three that we saved to become butterflies); because it is she that I have listened to when she grumbled, or boasted, or even sometimes when she said nothing. Because she is my rose."

And he went back to meet the fox.

"Goodbye," he said.

"Goodbye," said the fox. "And now here is my secret, a very simple secret: It is only with the heart that one can see rightly; what is essential is invisible to the eye."

"What is essential is invisible to the eye," the little prince repeated so that he would be sure to remember.

"It is the time you have wasted for your rose that makes your rose so important."

"Men have forgotten this truth," said the fox. "But you must not forget it. You become responsible, forever, for what you have loved. You are responsible for your rose . . ."

"I am responsible for my rose," the little prince repeated so that he would be sure to remember.

50 Questions Recruiters Ask College Seniors

The purpose of an interview is for the interviewer to find out about you, the prospective employee. The employer wants to know about you in order to make a decision about hiring and you want the employer to know about you so that the decision will be favorable. Dr. Frank E. Edmon, Jr., has done a report on college recruiting and within the report is something that will aid you. Listed below are fifty questions asked by employers during interviews with college seniors. Read the questions and formulate your answers. A good interview often determines whether or not you get hired. Remember nothing beats proper preparation.

1. What are your long range and short range goals and objectives, when and why did you establish these goals and how are you preparing yourself to achieve them?
2. What specific goals other than those related to your occupation, have you established for yourself for the next 10 years?

Boston-Fairfield University basketball captain Steve Balkun, and Fairfield star guard Kim Fisher became the Boston Celtics seventh and eighth round draft choices, respectfully as the NBA began its' annual draft of the top college talent.

Balkun, from West Hartford, Ct., captained the Stag team for the past two seasons, and this last campaign led the 22-3 club in rebounds with 10 a game. The 6-foot-8 forward also led New England in that category for most of the season. Although not the top scorer on the Stag team (9.6 ppg.), Balkun brought the club fine leadership and showed great poise on the court for Fred Barakat's team.

Fisher, a 6-foot guard from East Orange, N.J., displayed for the Stags this season some outstanding basketball skills and showed the fans of Division I basketball why he was selected a Junior College All-American two years earlier at Essex Community College. It took Fisher almost a full year to adjust to division I ball, but when he did, he combined with Junior Joe DeSantis to give the Stags the finest backcourt anywhere, and helped the club to their finest season ever.

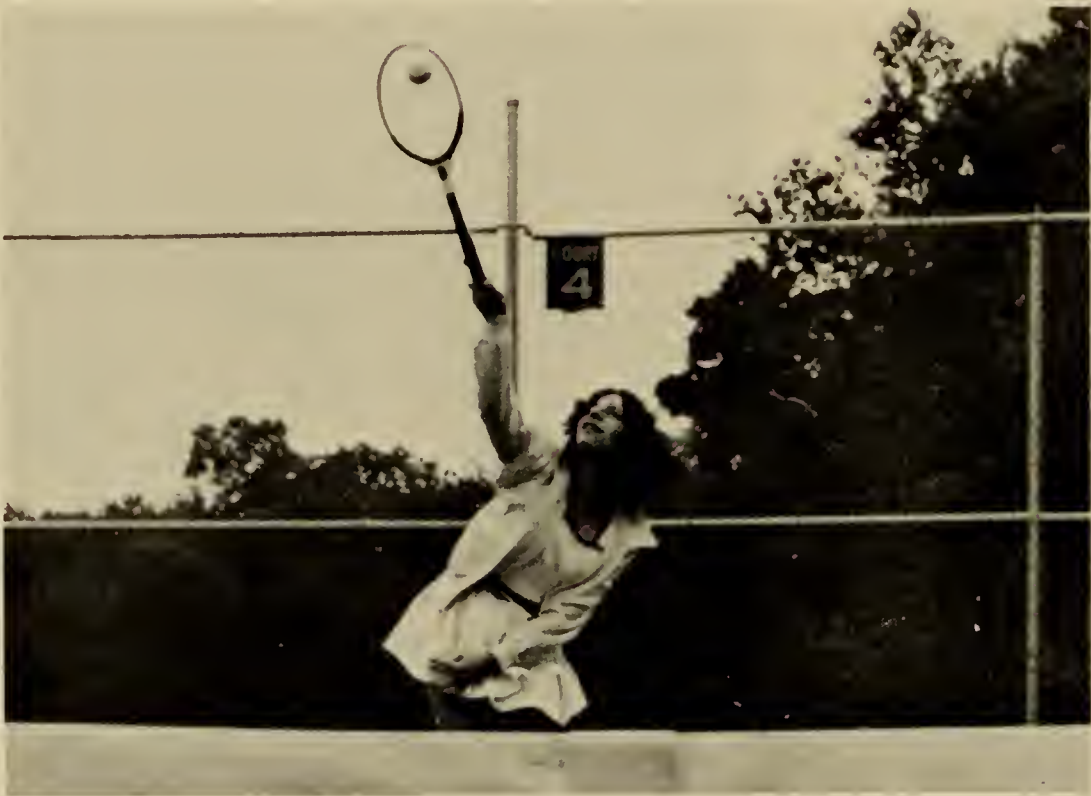

Fisher scored over 18 points a game this past year, and joined DeSantis and center Mark Young in the Fairfield 1000 point club in early January.

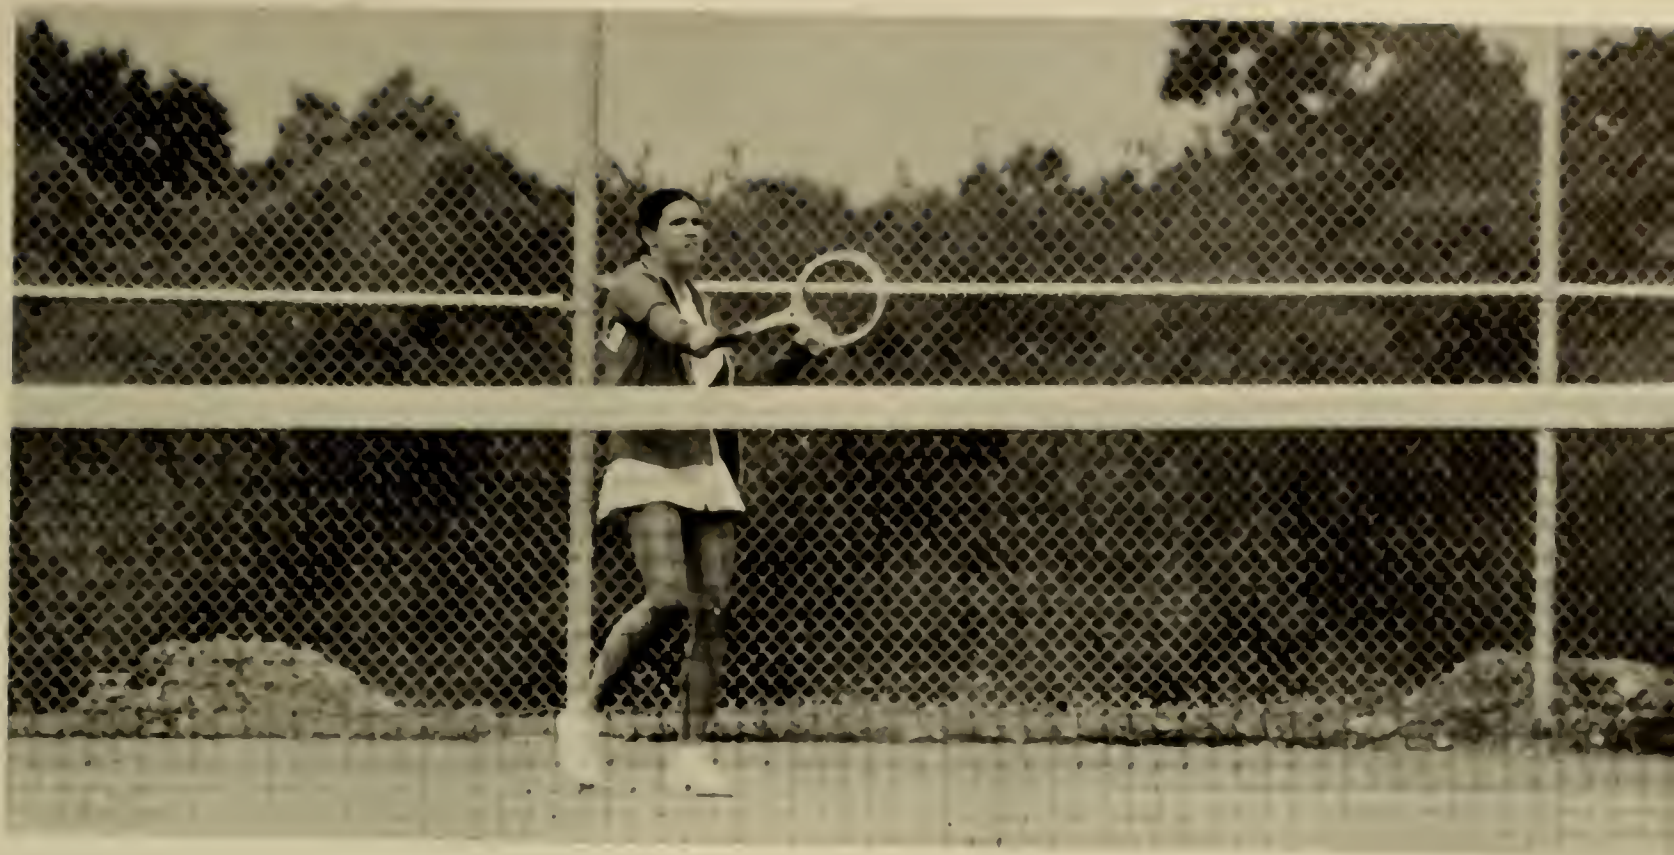

Both players will report to the Celtic camp in August.

-1000-

The Fairfield University women's tennis team finished their fall season with 4 wins and 3 losses, bringing their four year record to 28-9. Heavy graduation losses were in evidence in some of the team's close matches, yet the depth produced by returning players Cathy Dooley, Mary Liz Kern, Mary Ellen Haynes, Susan McBride, Kathy Jo LaZear and Co-captains Marilyn Vallario and Karen Cribben, as well as newcomers Jeannine Cusolito, Debbie Flynn, Mary Ann Hansen, Maureen Lee, and Jane McConnell is a good indication of the developing strength yet to come.

Graduation will take two players this year, Marilyn Vallario and Kathy Jo LaZear. Both will be sorely missed for their contributions. Marilyn leaves with a career record of 28-14, and Kathy Jo with with a 3 year tally of 17-8.

"When someone is seeking," said Siddhartha, "It happens quite easily that he only sees the thing that he is seeking; that he is unable to find anything, unable to absorb anything, because he is only thinking of the thing he is seeking, because he has a goal, because he is obsessed with this goal. Seeking means: to have a goal; but finding means: to be free, to be receptive, to have no goal."

What I must do is all that concerns me, not what the people think. This rule, especially arduous in actual and in intellectual life, may serve for the whole distinction between greatness and meanness. It is the harder because you will always find those who think they know what is your duty better than you know it. It is easy in the world to live after the world's opinion; it is easy in solitude to live after our own, but the great man is he who in the midst of the crowd keeps with perfect sweetness the independence of solitude.

There was a time when meadow, grove,
and stream,
The earth, and every common sight,
To me did seem Appareled in celestial light,
The glory and the freshness of a dream,
It is not now as it hath been of yore —
Turn wheresoe'er I may,
By night and day,
The things which I have seen I now can see no more.
Where has it fled the glory and the dream? Where is it now, the visionary gleam?

Dear Reader,

This traditionally is the place in the book for the editor to expound upon his or her hopes for the book and their expectations of the reader. However, since this book attempts to transcend the bonds of past publications I will quite simply ask that you be discerning readers and gentle critics.

I will take the editorial license (or abuse, deem it what you will) to use this space to thank my editorial staff for all their support and assistance, their friendship and especially their wit. I'd also like to recognize the photography staff, as well as Delma Studios and their crew, Jim Findley, our Herfi Jones representative, and Mrs. Bea Stenako. My most sincere thanks are extended to May, Helen, Kay, and Charlie from the mailroom; they are an unbelievable asset to any group, and always a pleasure to work with.

I hope that you enjoy our interpretation of the year. As a staff we are proud of it, and as its editor I regard it as a production of special meaning.

Many thanks, and all the best.

Sincerely,

Geri Morrissey

The Stag football season was a year of few highlights. After opening to varsity squad Iona College and losing 65-0, the gridiron team went on to beat Maritime 6-0 in a comeback from the previous game. From that point, the Stags lost their next six games, and the season ended with a whimper after an optimistic beginning.

There were some highlights to the season though. Dennis Murphy, a two-year captain got second team All-American honors for the third year, as well as the coaches award. Flanker Jim Anderson joined Murphy on that All-American team. Murphy, a linebacker, was the offensive MVP for the club, while Anderson won the same honor on the offensive side.

Next year promises better things for the football club under co-captains Tommy Rice and Vinny O'Brien, while Sherwin Collins takes over as the club's president. Also leaving in the class of '78 are Murphy, Mark Farrell, Al Franzi, Steve Skronski, Mark Hudak, Jim Pandise, Harry Carrubba and Bryan Murphy.

It proved to be quite an up and down season for the women's field hockey team, but nonetheless a successful one. Grace Greene's club got off to a quick start, winning all three of their initial games before getting knocked off by Manhattanville, 4-1. That loss sort of brought things down quickly for the Stagettes, as they dropped three of their next four games to finish with a 4-3 record.

With a good portion of the team expected-back for next year, the future looks bright for the field hockey program at Fairfield, and maybe there will be some post season tournaments for this sport in the near future.

Soccer is a simple game of continuous action and constantly changing possession of the ball. While it is a team sport, each player is, nevertheless, clearly an individual with skills and style all his own. Fairfield's soccer team is no different from any other in that respect. However, Fairfield's soccer team is different from other teams in that they have trouble combining their individual skills to form effective team play. The inability has resulted in losing games and losing records. But the future is not at all bleak for Fairfield soccer. With the experience the returning players have acquired, plus their enthusiasm and excellent coaching from Jim Kuhlman, Fairfield will soon have another winning sport in the years to come.

THE 924

A PORSCHE WITHIN REACH.

A Porsche for less than $11,500*

Yes, a Porsche. The Porsche 924. The car you promised yourself you'd own someday has become a car you can own today.

And although the 924 is less than you'd expect to pay for a Porsche, it is all Porsche. The design is sleek. Graceful. Strictly Porsche.

The interior is constructed, as it should be, for comfort and practicality. Like all other Porsches.

And the 924 handles as only a

Porsche can. Because years of engineering knowledge and precise craftsmanship went into its development. Its unique rear transaxle system gives the car nearly perfect 50-50 weight distribution. The 924 is so beautifully balanced that it takes corners and curves with ease.

Look at The Porsche 924. Drive it.

Your fantasy car is now available at a realistic price.

DRIVE ONE OF OUR LEGENDS
PORSCHE + AUDI

*Suggested 1978 retail price, $11,325. East Coast P.O.E. Transportation, local taxes and dealer charges, additional. Special wheels optional.

The Secret

*Since I am
Somebody's dream,
I have a good life.*

*I have a secret which I have learned to read inside myself;
if I told it to you
it would make you laugh.*

*besides being no one,
know that I am you
and everybody.*

*But if I go away without giving you a name to remember me with,
how will I find the right dream to return to?*

*You won't have to mark down on your calendar that I am coming back;
I will be around when you aren't thinking about me . . .*

— Thomas Merton
